

A senior software partner for businesses that run operations.

We build and connect the systems that keep work on the ground and money in the books aligned - custom software, integrations, automation, and payments when you need them.

Build it right. Ship it fast. Keep it running.

Absterco LLC | Absterco (Pvt) Ltd

About us

Absterco started because we saw the same problem everywhere: teams that over-promise, under-deliver, and charge too much. We wanted to build something different.

We assembled a senior engineering team in Sri Lanka - skipping middlemen and focusing on what matters: shipping reliable software for clients around the world. We take messy operational problems and turn them into clean, working systems.

For construction and logistics teams who want a fast diagnosis, Absterco Ops is our short discovery offer. For everyone else, we start with a conversation and build what you need.

What we do

1. See the gap

A short discovery - or an Absterco Ops audit for construction and logistics teams - to find where work on the ground and the books fall out of sync.

2. Connect the systems

Integrations so job sites, ops tools, and finance stay aligned - numbers match reality before month-end.

3. Build what you need

Custom software, apps, automation, and payments when off-the-shelf tools are not enough.

How we work

Step 1: Discovery

A short conversation (or Ops audit) to understand your operations gap.

Step 2: Plan

A clear scope, timeline, and fixed fee - no vague retainers up front.

Step 3: Build

Weekly updates and working software. You talk to the people building it.

Step 4: Support

Optional ongoing help so systems keep running after launch.
